CHALLENGES, RISKS, AND IMPACTS

For more than 2 years, the world has experienced a pandemic situation. From the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) has a significant impact on the economic condition, including an overview of business and human rights. Although the term “human rights” is now widely known, there are still challenges that deserve serious consideration to address or overcome as a whole of Thailand, which can be summarized as follows:

1. Real and Sustain human rights knowledge and understanding.
2. Enhance the mind set to "Human rights play an important role in the achievement of the mission well and all stakeholder's trust".
3. The implementation of "human rights" seriously and sustainably.
4. The role of the Company in promoting and protecting human rights.
5. Understanding and mutual respect between NGOs and human rights defenders and government agencies and government officials.

As a result, the government initiated the continuation of the 4th National Human Rights Plan by launching a review of the draft National Action Plan on Business and Human Rights, Phase 2 (2023–2027). In which Thaioil Group has participated in both giving opinions and implementing the action plan. such practice under the principle that “Human rights are a challenge. But it's not difficult to fix or can't be overcome. Every problem has a solution. Only we accept and implement together seriously. As a result, employees and stakeholders will be protected and promoted sustainable human rights.” For this reason, Thaioil Group continues to raise the level of protection of human rights of stakeholders as an important agenda continuously.

Our Commitment

Thaioil Group remains committed to promoting good human rights practices throughout our value chain. We continue to operate as mandated by the Human Rights Policy in Own Operations, the Business and Human Rights Policy for Business Partners, and the Supplier Code of Conduct. All our human rights-related policies and procedures have been aligned with the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, or the UNGP, which guide us towards the protection of the human rights of our employees, business partners (i.e. suppliers, contractors, customers), and local communities, as well as environmental rights relating to natural resources, fisheries, and a clean environment free of pollution. We uphold our commitment to ensure that our treatment of all stakeholders throughout our value chain go above and beyond expected human rights standards, such that Thaioil may be looked to as a leading practice on sustainability management in both Thailand and abroad.

Thaioil Group made some improvements to the “Grievance Mechanisms and Effective Remedy Framework Procedure” previously in 2019. We had developed this procedure to guide management of the grievances and complaints submitted regarding the practices of Thaioil Group and our value chain, reduce social risks in the business, transmit the worries and concerns of stakeholders, and mitigate existing conflicts. The procedure also demonstrates transparency in Thaioil’s business conduct, and promotes good relations with business partners in our supply chain. In 2021, Thaioil Group established a target to achieve zero human rights complaints.

Our Strategy

To deploy human right policy to practice and actions related to human right according to the roadmap with systematic and beyond best practice.

Human Rights Risks Assessment Matrix

The assessment of human rights risk level will be conducted using a matrix below to determine the significance of the human rights, where the Axis-X is the level of likelihood and Axis-Y is the level of severity.

The assessment takes into account Thairoil vulnerable groups covers all Stakeholders, specifically our employees, Contractor, Sub-contractor, Community, Suppliers, Customers, women and children, migrant labors, local community, disabled people, elderly, patients and transgender

Remarks: Residual risks levels "Extreme" and "High" are considered key risks that Thairoil needs to understand the effectiveness of its existing controls.

Human Rights Risk Assessment Overview

Identify human rights issues through reviewing issues reported by peers in the industry, recent news and events, and insights by human rights institutes such as the Institute for Human Rights and Business.

Screen issues according to relevance with the identified activity.

Assess residual risk levels considering existing mitigation measures.

Integrate findings and determine additional mitigation measures to lower risk levels for salient human rights issues.

This document details the risk assessment approach and findings in 2020-2022 for both in own operations and the supply chain.

Human Rights Risk Assessment in the Supply Chain 2020 - 2022

Besides assessing risks in our own operations, Thailoil also assesses the risks resulting from the activities of our tier 1 suppliers. The assessment covered 100% of tier 1 suppliers, for both crude oil procurement and general procurement. The Company assessed severity and likelihood based on the risk assessment criteria, and considered the scope of issues that is aligned with the Sustainable Code of Conduct for Supplier of Thailoil and Subsidiaries (SCOC).

The 2020 risk assessment revealed that 24% of all activities have human rights risks. Identified risks included those relating to working conditions and occupational health and safety. Thailoil has prepared adequate measures to manage these issues, including rules, regulations, contracts, and communications to increase understanding of human rights policies and practices.

Spotlight on issues 2021

Thaioil Group's vision is to "Empowering Human Life through Sustainable Energy and Chemicals"

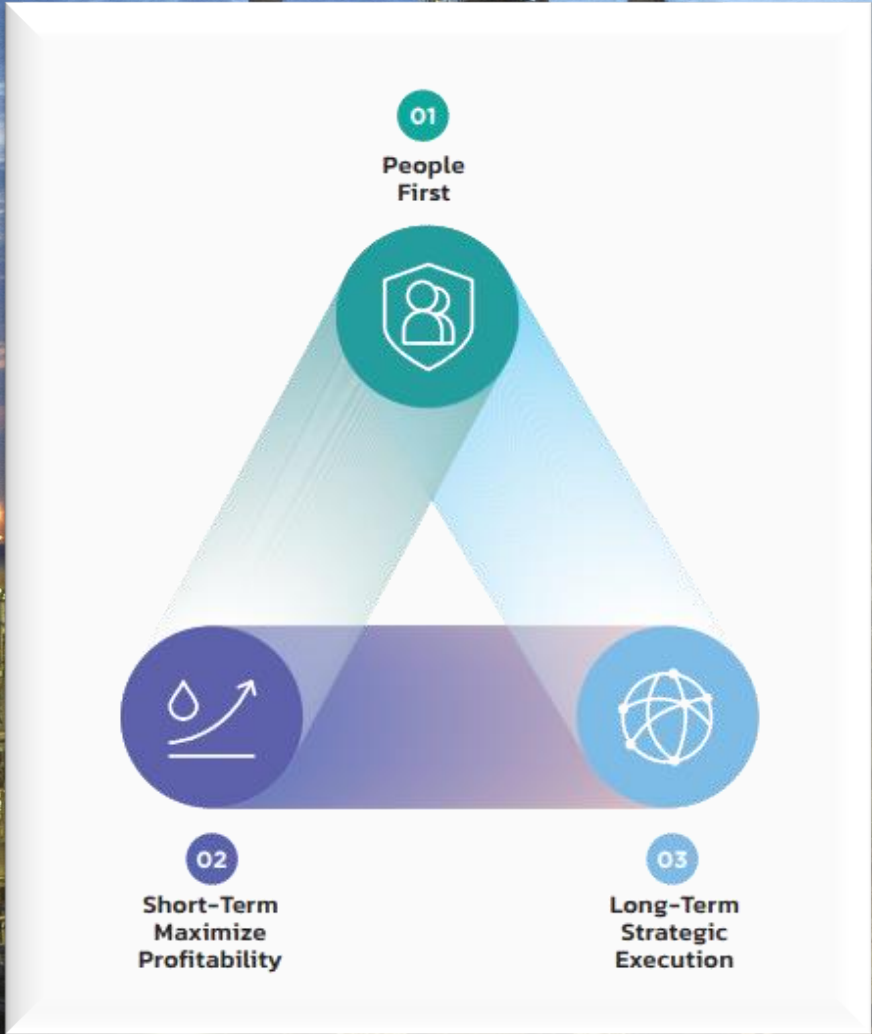

This means our goal is to become a high competitive energy and chemicals company that will generate sustainable returns to all our stakeholders, increase their quality of life, and drive sustainable growth within the organization, all while maintaining the balance across the economic, social, environmental, and governance dimensions along with respect for human rights.

Since 2020, the Company observed high rates of volatility and recurring economic and political instability across our country, region, and the world – including the COVID-19 pandemic crisis. This brought about large, abrupt changes in how business is conducted and how we live our lives, and further reiterated to Thaioil Group the importance of increasing the resilience of our strategic plan in order to adapt to the changes and trends of this unpredictable context. Henceforth, the Company has revisited the strategic direction and plan, including the short-term, medium-term, and long-term business plans – altogether spanning the years 2022-2030 – and reformulated it into three main business directions and strategies. In this process, we have considered global megatrends, analyzed competitor movements, and studied the 'new normal' context and associated changes in society and consumer behavior, to make certain that Thaioil has the appropriate business direction and strategic plan in accomplishing our goals that can truly grow our business towards sustainable business growth.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, Thaioil Group has implemented measures to ensure business excellence and these measures are based on three key principles or three-pronged strategy, as presented below:

Spotlight on Human Right Mindset

People First

In 2021, Thaioil Group continued to organize human rights activities for stakeholders under the "3 parts for fulfilling human rights" framework for the second consecutive year. Activities included:

Part I = Ensuring education for all :

Thaioil implemented a variety of initiatives to ensure that our employees and stakeholders understand human rights and have a human rights mindset.

For employees, Thaioil has developed a Human Rights E-Learning course which is accessible to all employees through the "Thaioil Academy Application".
